"If I profess, with the loudest voice and the clearest exposition, every portion of the truth of God except precisely that little point which the world and the devil are at that moment attacking, I am not confessing Christ, however boldly I may be professing Christianity. Where the battle rages the loyalty of the soldier is proved; and to be steady on all the battle-field besides is mere flight and disgrace to him if he flinches at that one point."¹

Welcome to Living Christianity

a series of studies about God's calling for his people in the world

Over these 5 sessions we hope to get you to value the truth that following Christ transforms all aspects of our lives.

Christians are new people in Christ, with a new status and a new purpose. No longer under the power of sin, we have been transferred into the kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ. In him we have redemption and forgiveness of sin. As followers of Christ we are called to grow in our love for him and for our fellow believers.

Christ is Lord in our family life, when we are at work, in our responsibilities as citizens, and much more besides. The Bible guides believers to seek a healthy church life, to spread the good news, and directs us to live faithfully in everything we do.

If we want to be faithful and effective Christian citizens, we need to pay particular attention to what it means to truly engage with wider society.

Our prayer is that through the course, you and your group recognise the implications of living as a Christian in today's world and become better equipped to live out your faith in all areas of life.

"[Living Christianity] tackles many of the topics we don't invest much time in. This is a fantastic opportunity for us as churches, as small groups, as student groups to think about how we apply the Christian faith to the whole of life."

Chris Sinkinson

"A lot of Christians are losing their confidence and so are not actively engaging with the gospel and the idea that Jesus is Lord of all areas of life."

Pete Nicholas

"If we want to see our society impacted and transformed by the gospel, it's going to mean that we need to stand up and speak out and be involved."

Michael Ots

"This series is really important to help us think Christianly about lots of different issues without falling into one of two extremes - the 'holy huddle', and the unquestioning assimilation of our culture."

Caz Dodds

"The key purpose of this study series is to equip the Church, to help its young people, its students, all of us taking our place in wider society, to live the whole of life for God and to his glory."

Richard Cunningham

introduction

Do some areas of your life seem very obviously 'Christian', while in others your faith seems a lot less relevant? If so, you're not alone. Many Christians find it hard to see the everyday relevance of their beliefs beyond personal devotions, church life and evangelism.

But God never intended us to compartmentalise our lives like this. As Christians, we're called to live out our faith in Jesus in everything we do.

In this study series we will see that the God who created this world and will one day restore it, sends us out to serve him in all areas of life. God calls his people to live Christianly; engaging positively with society as active citizens.

In this first session, we will begin to look at what it means to be a full-time disciple of Jesus.

session focus

Becoming a Christian transforms us; affecting everything we do.

1

getting started

A friend asks you: 'What is the gospel?' What do you say?

watch episode 1

 Use this space if you'd like to make notes

read Matthew 5:13-16

discuss

1. Jesus is speaking to his disciples (vv1-2). Why does he describe them as 'salt' and 'light'? Is it possible to be a Christian and not be salt and light?
2. What does this passage imply about the world in which we live? Why should Christians be concerned to have an impact on the world around us?
3. Who benefits when Christians live out their lives as distinctive salt and light?

7. In the past Christians have been at the forefront of the abolition of slavery, ending state-licensed prostitution, combatting poverty and homelessness, and championing racial equality and universal education.

Which areas of society do you think Christians need to have a biblical influence on today? What can you do to be a Christian influence – nationally and locally?

pray

- bring to God any personal relationships where you would like to be 'salt and light'
- pray for one or two of the areas you identified in question 7
- ask God to show you where you are not obeying "the whole counsel of God" (Acts 20:27)

going further...

Would you answer the question: 'What is the gospel?' any differently now?
